What you need to do

1. Compare the 93 units covering 303 practices that are detailed in the federal rule Appendix B to 49 CFR part 380 to all the subjects you currently train. Identify any shortfalls and then add these subjects to your training.
2. Train your trainers in the Entry Level Driver Training (ELDT) requirements.
3. Submit the completed FMCSA Entry-Level Driver Training Provider Identification Report and obtain your locations unique Trainer Provider Registry (TPR) number. The system to submit this form is still in creation and will be advised by FMCSA in the near future.
4. Although not required by regulations, we recommend you implement a Safety Management System (SMS) where you identify the hazards, analyze the hazards and the actions you are taking to mitigate these hazards.

What we have done

1. We compared the 303 required practices to what we teach in our 25 subject Driver Training Course (DTC) and identified 27 subjects that need to be added. We then created a supplemental program covering these additional 27 subjects.
2. We have created a guide on how to comply with the Trainer Provider Registry requirements.
3. We have created a guide on how to implement a Safety Management System.

What should you do?

1. If you already use our Driver Training Course, just purchase the supplemental program for only $500. This program covers all three requirements - ELDT & TPR. It also explains how to create and follow a SMS.
2. If you do not already use our comprehensive Driver Training Course, then purchase both the DTC and the supplemental program for a total of $5,200. These high quality, informative comprehensive courses will change driver behaviors and remove or reduce hazards. They will be used for up to 10 years for a one time cost of $5,200.
